TO THE EVALUATOR:

The individual named on the reverse side of this form is applying for admission to Brooklyn Law School. Provided the candidate has opted to sign part A in the above waiver, you may be assured that your comments will be kept confidential both from him/her and the public. If the candidate has selected part B, choosing not to waive his/her rights, please be advised that under federal law, following enrollment as a student at this law school, this person may have access to your comments upon request.

WITH REGARD TO CONTENT:

Since most of our applicants present fine college records and competitive test scores, recommendations which comment generally on these factors only are not particularly helpful to the Committee on Admissions. On the other hand, recommendations that candidly discuss an applicant's specific qualifications and accomplishments will materially aid the Committee.

Based on our experience, those recommendations which have been most informative in the application review process answer most, or at least many, of the following questions: (I) What is your relationship to the applicant? (2) Can you comment on the applicant's analytical and expressive abilities, study habits, or personal motivation? (3) What special interests, personal qualities or background distinguish this applicant from others? (4) What observations do you have of the character and integrity of the applicant? (5) What relevant insights might you be able to offer regarding this candidate which are not likely to be available from other sources? (6) How does this applicant compare with other promising contemporaries? (7) How would you assess this applicant's academic promise in a rigorous professional program? (8) If the applicant engaged in any undergraduate or graduate research under your guidance, what was the nature of the work and what is your evaluation of the applicant's performance? (9) Are you aware of the applicant's contribution to the college or community in nonacademic endeavors?

SUBMIT THIS FORM AND YOUR RECOMMENDATION USING ONE OF THE FOLLOWING PROCEDURES:

- (a) you may return these documents directly to Brooklyn Law School at the address shown below; or
- (b) you may give these documents to the centralized evaluation service (if one exists) at the candidate's college; or
- (c) you may return these documents to the candidate in a sealed, countersigned envelope for submission at the time of application to Brooklyn Law School.
